Win 1 of 3 Handbag Butlers!

July 25, 2009 by Not Quite Nigella

As a devout Handbag (and shoe and hat) addict, I know that there really is nowhere comfortable to put a large bag in a restaurant. A clutch can sit on a table but a large bag has no place. I know exactly how it hurts to put your precious bag on a restaurant floor where it risks being trodden on and I also know how uncomfortable it is to put it in your lap or behind you while you eat and how you can never relax like that.

Want to achieve

Start with Noble's Pureau.

Australia's Purest Water.

My overweight Stam-it worked!

So the clever people at Handbag Butler have come to the rescue with a stylish solution that sits on the side of the table. It's also tiny and fits in the cutest mini purse and can carry up to 5 kilos or 11 pounds. My beloved Marc Jacobs Stam was the ultimate test weighing in at an obese 2 kgs (the chain weighs as much as the bag).

Thanks to the lovely people at Handbag Butler we are giving away 3 Handbag Butlers to 3 lucky Not Quite Nigella readers!

All you need to tell me your dream bag (mine happens to be the Hermes Blue Jean Birkin but at $12,000 a pop, it remains a dream for now!). Add your entry via a comment to this story. You can enter once daily as long as your answer is different.

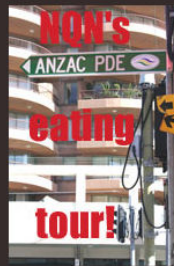

This competition is open to Australian readers. The competition ends midnight AEST (Australian Eastern Standard Time) on the 31st of August, 2009.

Good Luck to everyone!

Love,

Lorraine
